Dear President Obama,

My name is Sena and I am eleven years old. I am very concerned about climate change and that is why I am writing you this letter.

I know about some problems, such as too much carbon dioxide going into the atmosphere, which ends up in the ocean killing plankton.

I have done public service announcements on our local radio station, handed out pamphlets, and raised money for whales and the environment.

I will be very, very sad if the climate gets any warmer. I don't want to live on an unhealthy planet and I don't want future generations to have to either.

It would mean a lot to me if you would try to do something about this. I think it would be very good for the environment if gas and electricity taxes went up. Please let me know if there is anything you think I can do.

Sincerely,

Sena Mocanu Wager
